

The Log Cabin Patchogue, L. I., N. Y.

The 'Log Cabin', a Lincoln store on South Ocean Avenue in the 1930's.

The former Ginacchio's fruit and confectionary store on the southwest corner of Ocean Avenue and Main Street, now occupied by Simon Smietan's jewelry store, had to be vacated in 1935. This building, and the ones to the south of it, soon would be demolished to make room for the new Furman Building.

A fire on December 10, 1960 damaged the Furman Building on the southwest corner of Main Street and Ocean Avenue, destroying the Richard York Shoe Store, the Bonnie Mart Restaurant, Robert's Stationary and several offices on the upper floor. The building has been repaired.
