

Howard S. Conklin, the owner of a stationary store on South Ocean Avenue, was also a photographer whom we have to thank for hundreds of photographs of Patchogue. He was especially fascinated with automobiles. Whenever he spotted a new kind of a car coming through Patchogue, he would ask the driver to let him take a picture. These are some of his pictures of automobiles.

Howard S. Conklin and wife with his personal automobile.

John Foley's automobile in front of Roe's Hotel, July 19, 1904.