

Edwin Bailey and his grandchildren with his Ford automobile in front of his home on Baker Street in the year 1906.

Mr. Ball and his 1902 White in front of Howard Conklin's store, September 1, 1904.

Mr. Conroy and his auto, August 30, 1904. The white coat, cap and glasses for men and veils for women were mandatory equipment in the days of open cars and dusty roads.