

After all the machinery, foundations and other obstructions were removed, a new concrete floor was poured.

The new owners of the Lace Mill property, under the name of Island Industrial Park, offered this renovated spaces for rent. This postcard was sent to prospective clients.

There were many plans for the possible future use of the Lace Mill property. This is a display model for one of these plans.