

The new 5th Precinct building on Waverly Avenue under construction. The date of this Jim Mooney aerial photo is March 8, 1964. The precinct building opened August 3, 1964. The water of the lake is still close to the Lace Mill buildings, but in 1967 the south end of the lake would be filled in and the West Avenue extension would be routed around the north side of the mill to connect to Waverly Avenue, which was widened in 1967, easing the north – south traffic flow in this part of Patchogue.
