

The Renovation of the Patchogue Theater

Patchogue Village purchased the Patchogue Theater in 1996 for the sum of $300,000 with the help of three local businessmen, who provided a $400,000 loan. The rehabilitation of the theater started in August 1998. Here the much widened foyer is under construction in 1998.

The conversion of the theater to a triplex did much damage to the interior. Here the dividing wall and the large I-beams supporting the balcony are being removed.

A view of the rear section of the theater. All these long i-beams that supported the extended balcony had to be removed.
