

The 1940 Fourth of July Parade on South Ocean Avenue. The Fourth of July always was celebrated with big parades in Patchogue, drawing large crowds.

Tommy Benkenstein and Billy Rose and their decorated wagon, ready to participate in the 1940 Fourth of July Parade.

This Pelco float in the 1948 Fourth of July Parade won first prize in the industrial category, showing the latest appliances available in comparison to the equipment of many years ago. The modern kitchen is attended by Anita Scale and the old fashioned kitchen by Doris Horning and William Glatzel.