

Dodge City Amusement Park

From the late 1950's to the early 1960's Patchogue had an amusement park, called "Dodge City" located on the southwest corner of the Sunrise Highway and Waverly Avenue. Wild West shows, train rides and stagecoach rides were available to entertain the young and old.
