

Felice's restaurant on Waverly Avenue started out as a small restaurant in 1918, but was gradually expanded over the years. This restaurant also had a bowling alley on the premises and could boast to be the first restaurant in Patchogue to have a television. This place was destroyed by a fire on April 21, 1960.

Mickey Felice opened a restaurant on the former Mascot Hotel site at the foot of South Ocean Avenue in 1961. This is an aerial picture of the restaurant in 1962.
