

Molly and Arthur Blum's corset shop, 23 South Ocean Avenue. The people in this picture of the interior of the store are, from left to right : Hanore Maler, Irene Godsowski, Arlene Barber, unidentified, Molly Blum, and Arthur Blum. Shortly after their marriage in 1927, Molly and Arthur moved to Terry Street in Patchogue and then opened the store on South Ocean

Avenue. A fire on February 10, 1956, forced them to move to a new location, just west of the Congregational Church on East Main Street. In 1968 they bought the building on 13 – 15 East Main Street, their present location, and added 8 000 square feet to the store. Today their daughter Bernice, her husband Abe Siegel, and their son Marc are the owners of the store.

Molly and Arthur Blum in front of their store on East Main Street. The lady in the center in this 1968 picture is Mrs. Rosenblatt from Rose Jewelers.