

Two ladies are winding yarn onto spools from skeins .

The mill could also boast of an impressive band. The names of these band members are as follows, from left to right: (front row) Frank Lotito, Jack Aldrich, Gus Francois, and Julius Fuss; (standing) Ed van Es-sendelft, unknown, Al DeVito, Ben Beardsley, Mike Briglia, Tom Baker, William Cardinal (bandleader), Ernest Swymore, Harry Ball, unknown, Donald Magurk, George Stark, unknown, Herb Mills, and Ed Kozlowski.

The end of a working day at the mill in 1915. At that time, the mill employed approximately six hundred people.